 - ☐ no decision has been made yet on the protest; the applicant will be notified as soon as a decision is made.
4. Reminders
 Shortly after the expiration of 18 months from the priority date, the international application will be published by the International Bureau. If the applicant wishes to avoid or postpone publication, a notice of withdrawal of the international application, or of the priority claim, must reach the International Bureau as provided in Rules 90bis.1 and 90bis.3, respectively, before the completion of the technical preparations for international publication.

 The applicant may submit comments on an informal basis on the written opinion of the International Searching Authority to the International Bureau. The International Bureau will send a copy of such comments to all designated Offices unless an international preliminary examination report has been or is to be established. These comments would also be made available to the public but not before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date.

 Within 19 months from the priority date, but only in respect of some designated Offices, a demand for international preliminary examination must be filed if the applicant wishes to postpone the entry into the national phase until 30 months from the priority date (in some Offices even later); otherwise, the applicant must, within 20 months from the priority date, perform the prescribed acts for entry into the national phase before those designated Offices.

 In respect of other designated Offices, the time limit of 30 months (or later) will apply even if no demand is filed within 19 months.

 See the Annex to Form PCT/IB/301 and, for details about the applicable time limits, Office by Office, see the PCT Applicant's Guide, Volume II, National Chapters and the WIPO Internet site.

Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the questions whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

Claim 15 is objected to under PCT Rule 66.2(a)(v) as lacking clarity under PCT Article 6 because the range provided would seem to be meaningless without any units attached.

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.

V. 2. Citations and Explanations:

Claims 1-9 and 11-20, and 22-25 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by JP 6-88025. This document discloses a silicone coating material comprising a crosslinkable silicone that may be of any known type (paragraph 15) but is preferably that obtained by reacting a hydroxyl group-terminated polysiloxane according to formula 5 with an organosilicon compound derived from an epoxy-functional silane and an amino-functional silane (paragraphs 16-18) and a diluent. The diluent is one of the cyclic siloxane portrayed in formula 3 or the oligomeric linear siloxane shown in formula 4. Of these, those diluents having between 3 and 8 repeat units are most preferred for their higher volatilization rates (paragraphs 12 and 13). According to paragraph 14, the diluent may comprise up to 80% by weight of the composition. Diluents other than the low molecular weight non-reactive silicones may be incorporated in addition to the the organosilicon-based diluents (paragraph 31).

Concerning claims 4-5, 15-16, and 25, these are properties that are characteristic of the materials employed in formulating the composition are, therefore, inherent.

Claims 1, 3-5, 9, 11-12, 14, 17-18, 20, and 22 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,187,015. This document discloses ice-release compositions comprising a hydrosilylation-curable silicone, organohydrogensiloxane, catalyst, and non-functional polysiloxane (column 3, lines 54-62). More comprehensive descriptions of the base polymer, organohydrogensiloxane, and catalyst are provided in columns 4-6. The non-functional polysiloxane corresponding to the claimed carrier is a triorganosilyl-terminated polydimethylsiloxane (column 10, lines 53-55) that may have a viscosity of between 20 and 10,000 centistokes (column 7, lines 28-33) and is added in quantities up to 80 weight percent of the composition (Table 1).

Concerning claims 4-5, these are properties that are characteristic of the materials employed in formulating the composition are, therefore, inherent.

Though conventionally cured using heat to accelerate the cure, it is possible to cured hydrosilylation-curable systems at room temperature hence claim 20 is satisfied.

Claims 1, 3-5, 9, 11-14, 16-20, and 22 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,403,105. Stein discloses a biofouling release composition comprising a condensation curable silicone and a non-reactive, release-enhancing silicone fluid (column 1, lines 50-59). The components of the room temperature vulcanizable composition are a silanol- or alkoxy group-terminated polydiorganosiloxane having a viscosity of up to 50,000 cp (column 2, lines 9-36), a silane bearing multiple hydrolyzable groups (column 2, lines 55-63), and a tin- or titanium chelate catalyst. The release-enhancing fluid is fully delineated in column 3, lines 28-61 and may be added as 5-20 parts relative too 100 parts of the curable silicone.

Concerning claims 4-5, these are properties that are characteristic of the materials employed in formulating the composition are, therefore, inherent.

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/US04/23397

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.

Claims 9 and 21 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest a silicone composition comprised of 90% or more by weight of a non-VOC diluent.

Claims 1-25 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus possess industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.

NOTES TO FORM PCT/ISA/220

These Notes are intended to give the basic instructions concerning the filing of amendments under Article 19. The Notes are based on the requirements of the Patent Cooperation Treaty, the Regulations and the Administrative Instructions under that Treaty. In case of discrepancy between these Notes and those requirements, the latter are applicable. For more detailed information, see also the PCT Applicant's Guide, a publication of WIPO.

In these Notes, "Article," "Rule" and "Section" refer to the provisions of the PCT, the PCT Regulations and the PCT Administrative Instructions, respectively.

INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING AMENDMENTS UNDER ARTICLE 19

The applicant has, after having received the international search report, one opportunity to amend the claims of the international application. It should however be emphasized that, since all parts of the international application (claims, description and drawings) may be amended during the international preliminary examination procedure, there is usually no need to file amendments of the claims under Article 19 except where, e.g. the applicant wants the latter to be published for the purposes of provisional protection or has another reason for amending the claims before international publication. Furthermore, it should be emphasized that provisional protection is available in some States only.

What parts of the international application may be amended ?

Under Article 19, only the claims may be amended.

During the international phase, the claims may also be amended (or further amended) under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority. The description and drawings may only be amended under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Upon entry into the national phase, all parts of the international application may be amended under Article 28 or, where applicable, Article 41.

When ? Within 2 months from the date of transmittal of the international search report or 16 months from the priority date, whichever time limit expires later. It should be noted, however, that the amendments will be considered as having been received on time if they are received by the International Bureau after the expiration of the applicable time limit but before the completion of the technical preparations for international publication (Rule 46.1).

Where not to file the amendments ?

The amendments may only be filed with the International Bureau and not with the receiving Office or the International Searching Authority (Rule 46.2).

Where a demand for international preliminary examination has been/is filed, see below.

How ? Either by cancelling one or more entire claims, by adding one or more new claims or by amending the text of one or more of the claims as filed.

A replacement sheet must be submitted for each sheet of the claims which, on account of an amendment or amendments, differs from the sheet originally filed.

All the claims appearing on a replacement sheet must be numbered in Arabic numerals. Where a claim is cancelled, no renumbering of the other claims is required. In all cases where claims are renumbered, they must be renumbered consecutively (Administrative Instructions, Section 205(b)).

The amendments must be made in the language in which the international application is to be published.

What documents must/may accompany the amendments ?

Letter (Section 205(b)):

The amendments must be submitted with a letter.

The letter will not be published with the international application and the amended claims. It should not be confused with the "Statement under Article 19(1)" (see below, under "Statement under Article 19(1)").

The letter must be in English or French, at the choice of the applicant. However, if the language of the international application is English, the letter must be in English; if the language of the international application is French, the letter must be in French.
